is Arpad PALCIGNE, who is now located in the Argentine. If he goes to the United States for consultation with the Hungarian National Committee, it will be some time early in 1951.

2. Telecki reportedly states that he also is planning on emigrating to the United States as a DP. He states that the "Union" would still like to bring about the widening of the Hungarian National Committee on a non-political basis. About the internal situation, he felt that the Nationalist Catholics (not the extreme right) and the Peasant Catholics will be the most powerful forces in a liberated Hungary.
