CONFIDENTIAL BUENOS AIRES 7963

REF: BUENOS AIRES 7962

1. (U) Jacobo Timerman was expelled from Argentina the evening of September 25 by the military junta in accordance with a decree which also stripped him of his Argentine nationality. He departed at 1915 hours on Aerolineas Argentinas flight 116 to Rome with a travel document bearing an Israeli visa. Timerman was driven to the downtown Buenos Aires airport, Aeroparque, and was then transferred to ~~XXXXX~~ international airport Ezeiza by helicopter, with an additional escort helicopter which landed beside the Aerolineas 747 which Timerman immediately boarded. He was reportedly accompanied to the plane by the Israeli Charge. Wire services reported that Timerman telephoned his wife in New York during the flight's stopover in Rio de Janiero and that she would be joining him shortly in Israel.

2. (C) During his interview with Ambassador Castro-- which was almost simultaneous with Timerman's boarding aircraft--General Viola stressed that the expulsion decision had created bitter divisions within the military and had "caused deep wounds which would take a long time to heal." Viola showed strain and anxiety from the tense discussions preceding the junta decision and complained that the timing of the court's decision could hardly have been worse. He implied that the hardliners had resisted the decision bitterly and that it would have a political impact in many other areas. He said ~~xxxxxx~~ they had expected a possible adverse decision either well before the IAHR visit or a month after, but that the decision during the visit together with the revival of the Campora asylum issue had seriously overloaded the military's circuits. He volunteered that the Campora decision would be even more difficult and he did not know how that would turn out.

3. (U) GOA certainly complied with its promise to provide Timerman best protection. His manner of travel to the airport is usually reserved for visiting chiefs of state. The Supreme Court published its decision in the Timerman case on September 25. Decision will be subject of ^{separate} ~~xxxxxx~~ report. Details of other subject discussed by septels. CASTRO
