TERRORIST THREATS AND PLANS

NR

[Large Redacted Area]

Target: World Cup Soccer Games

Place: Argentina

Date: 1-25 June 1978

The World Cup Soccer Games began in Buenos Aires on 1 June and will continue through 25 June at various sites in Argentina. There have been numerous threats of demonstrations and attacks to be carried out during the games. Argentine officials have increased security at the locations of the games for participants, spectators and press. Security at airports, stadiums, and TV studios in cities where matches are to be held is being augmented by a specially trained security force. [Redacted]

NOTES

World Cup Soccer Games Proceed Without Serious Incident

Despite widespread rumors concerning terrorist operations planned to disrupt the World Cup soccer games, no significant terrorist incidents have occurred as of the midway point. Elaborate Argentine security arrangements, including a special 5000-man security force, and the terrorists' fear of creating a negative popular reaction to their cause, have apparently prevented terrorist actions in Argentina. One World Cup-related bombing occurred in Portugal, where a bomb exploded at the Argentine embassy to protest the repressive measures of the Argentine government. The World Cup matches will conclude on 25 June.

Argentine Embassy in Portugal Bomed

Place: Portugal, Lisbon

On 9 June a bomb was detonated at the Argentine embassy in Lisbon. The Action Group for Communism left a paper at a Portuguese news agency which said the bombing was in protest of the killings and imprisonments by the Argentine government and had been timed to coincide with the World Cup soccer games.
