DECLASSIFIED AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY BOURCES METHODS EXEMPTION 3828 NAZIWAR CRIMES DISCLOSURE ACT

SECRET

ZAKO, General Andres and Oroup

As a result of a preliminary field investigation made on the above named group by the following information is submitted:

1. The Austrian Intelligence files were searched and indicated:

a. General Andras ZAKO to be born on 23 March 1898 in BRASSO, Hungary. From October 19th subject was reported to have been the head of Department II (A/C of S, G-2) of the Hungarian General Staff. ZAKO's deputy was one Captain Miklos KORPONAT, who had been assigned to Department II by special orders from the Hungarian Prime Minister SZALÁSI. ZAKO was leader of the organization "KOPJAS" (name of a Hungarian ancient weapon). This organization was dedicated to organize a special combat intelligence group whose mission was to infiltrate the Russian front to gather information and to commit acts of sabotage.

In March 1945 when the Soviet Spring offensive started, the Hungarian General Staff instructed ZAZO to dispatch small groups of five to six nembers to areas which were to be occupied by the Soviets with orders to wait for future orders. At that time the number was 1500-2000 well-trained and equipped mem. ZAKO himself went into Germany where he was intermed by the U.S. and later extradited to Hungary as a war criminal. He escaped and went to lower Austria where he worked as an agricultural worker under an assumed name until 1947 when he went to Innsbrunk, Tyrol, French Zone of Austria. KOREMAT, together with eight officers and about fifteen soldiers, went to Austria. Here, after being intermed for a short period of time, they settled in a DF camp named Kellerberg, Garaphhia, in the British Zone of Austria.

The KOPJAS group, which at that time had no contact with ZAKO, remained inactive until the spring of 19h6. At this time Sandor LAMG, a naturalized British citizen of Hungarian origin and a member of the British Intelligence, who was officially charged by the Allies with the repatriation of Hungarian refugees, asked KORPONAY if he had some reliable men who could be sent into Hungary with the repatriation transports, to gather information with which they would then return to him in Austria. KORPONAY furnished him with the men and from this time on KORPONAY and his group provided both the British and the French with intelligence information gathered from the same sources.

In 1947 ZAKO had again taken over the leadership of the KOPJAS movement and plans were made to contact the U.S. intelligence establishments. CIC Sub-detachment at Hallein was contacted and accepted the proposal. It. Col. Georgy KOLLIXII was appointed their representative. They were later dropped by CIC because they were furnishing identical information to the American, British and French at the same time while each thought they were getting it exclusively. Shortly thereafter KOLLENTI was employed by TIB head-quarters in Salsburg. He was still reported employed by TIB in August 1950.

In October 1917 KORPONAY contacted Salsburg CIC and stated General ZAKO would have the former members of KOPJAS in all parts of the world rally behind him if called upon to fight Communism in the event of a war. He stated he was sorry both the English and the Americans refused to continue to accept the services of his group. KORPONAY then returned to Innsbruck, French Zone of Austria, where he and ZAKO resided.

Following this ZAKO and KORPONAY intensified their contact with the French, but during the period January to July 1948, they also contacted many G-2 agencies, including American intelligence agency in Frankfurt, Germany (TIB).

EMMPONAY was once threatened with arrest by the French for selling valuable intelligence information provided instead of using it for anti-Communist resistance movement under which pretext he obtained the information. Leter the French discovered he sold the information to another power.

ZAZO was satisfied to keep in the background and allow KORPONAY to assume complete control of KOPJAS organization. ZAKO played with the idea of becoming the future War Minister of Hungary. He soon realised this to be an implicitly ambition, since his group was known as an organization of extreme rightists who followed Hitler's racial and nationalistic lines. Therefore, most of the post-1945 Hungarian exiles were afraid to identify themselves with him, because they in turn were afraid to lose the support of their various political contacts among the Western Suropean countries and the U.S. Many, however, retained secret contact with ZAKO.

It is reported that ZAKO maintains a direct contact with the Small Holders Party now living in Paris, one Hadju-Nemeth LASZLO, who is expected to be nominated in the near future as the European representative of the Mational Committee in all military matters and who is a very close friend of Tebor .UKHARDT, a Hungarian politician under the HORTHY regime and one of ZAKO supporters.

In a meeting between Hadju-Nemeth LASZLO and ZAKO in early February 1950, ZAKO explained that he believed personal contact with the French to be more advantageous than a contact with the Americans and listed four reasons.

ZAZO allegedly received three million French france from the French intelligence in October 1949 for the organisation of a Hungarian penetration net.

In January 1950 one Attila KOVACS, one of the better intelligence operators in KORPONAI's organization was murdered in Innstruck by one Kiklos Josef 800NAR. Since Prench intelligence operators had warned both ZAKO, and KORPONAI only a few days before that according to their information BOGHAR was a Communist penetration agent and since this warning was completely ignored, the Prench discontinued the intelligence net. After this they used the services of the ZAKO group for minor intelligence missions. ZAKO now concentrated his efforts on the development of "so-called MAGYAR HARCOSOH BYLARSI KOEZESSEG" (Hungarian Warriors Comradeship Association-MHDK), an organization originally founded by NOTFOBAY in 19h6 and of which MAKO is still the official leader. They publish a newspaper called "HADAA STJAH" (The Road of the Army) printed in Namich, Carrany. Funds come from volumbery contributions by the mambers of the arganization and the sale of membership bedges (for five schillings each). MAKOU'S personal idea relative to the organization of the MHSA appears to be that since the MOPJAS movement has mained a rather doubtful reputation with most of the Western powers, he will use the less obtrustive MHSK to again approach the Western powers under a new disguise.

A mass meeting of the MAN was neld in Manien on 15 July 1950 under the leadership of ZA.O. Attending this meeting were representatives from France, Belgiup, Gormany and Austria. JAKO opened the secting by stating that the time had some for world-wide organisation of the MBS to establish the actual purpose of the organisation. A resolution was made to card and register all members. A sommittee composed of former high-ranking Hungarian officers will be nominated later to essist SASO in the leadership of the organization. It was also decided that the organization is to us changed into an organization of volunteers in which everyone would have equal rights and nobody would keep his old rank. This discards the old idea that they were the legal heirs to the so-called "NCSVPD ARSY" (the members of the Hungarian Army who found during World Var II under the leadership of Regent MORWINI). Immediately after the meeting NACO allegodly notified several of his followers that he had received written messages from both Admiral definit and Austrian Pretender 9770 advising him and all other former Hungarian soldiers to reorganize the "National Committee" in New York as the only legal representation of the Hungarian emigration.

The leader of WHEK in Salaburg, Austria is one General Lajos SURDEY, presently living at Plainstrasse, Salaburg. Also at present MHEK has an official representative in the United States with headquarters in New York City under the leadership of Lasqle, MHE, who has registered with the U.S. Attorney General under the mane of "Gollegial model; of Hungarian Veterans."

b. It is reported the Brotnerhood of Comrades-in-Arms is an association of former Hungarian Army Officers and has headquarters in Innsbruck, austria, and Munich, Germany, with some members in Paris and other parts of remose. This association's politics are right of center. The Brotherhood was organized by General Andres ZAGO and Ceptedn Miklos & JR WHAI on orders from General Ferono KOSSARHAKI-FARKAS and is composed by a staff of career officers who have remained in Western Surope since the war. Most of its sympathisers are refugees who have been in Western Europe since 1945 and are now fairly well established although the Protherhood has limited Timencial resources. The Brotherhood is wall orgamised and therefore attracts most of the young Hungarian emigres officially; it rejects Pancism and claims to be a non-partisan group although it is known to foster Arrow Cross elements. In order to enhance its reputation, the Brotherhood has invited well-known Liberals, such as Mislos LAZAR, former editor, to be its counselors. The Brotherhood maintains strict control ever the intalligence activities of its sembers and their laison with military officials of the Mostern Powers. This report also stated "It is believed that XISMAKRAKI" FARKAS's present relationship in the Brotherhood stems from his past dealings with Andras ZAKO. ZAKO was an instructor at the Ladovica Academy in Budapest, when KISBARNAKI-PARKAS was appointed Commanding General of the Sixth Military District at Debrecen, ZAKO was appointed his Chief of Staff, a position which he hald until the end of the war. KISBARNAKI-FARKAS and ZAKO fled Hungary to Innsbruck, Austria where they started to organise a group of Hungarian emigres in Austria and Germany. In 1916 at the convocation of Hungarian emigres at Landshut, Germany, ISMANNAKI-PARKAS proclaimed himself Prime Hinister and Minister of Defense of the Hungarian Government in exile. He assigned ZAKO the task of organizing all former Hungarian officers then in the Occupation Zones of Austria and Germany into an autonomous organization which would be solely responsible to ZAKO. ZAKO's organization is now known as the Brotherhood of Generalesain-Arus (BAJTARSI-KOZOJJEG). ZAKO has allegedly promised KISBARNAKI-FARKIS, the Brotherhood will be at the disposal of a Rungarian Committee of Liberation in the event it is needed."

c. Another intelligence report stated: "French plans cail for a Hungarian intelligence group consisting of 100-200 men headed by Andrea 2AXO; most of these men are now stationed in the American Zone of Germany and Austria. This groum is also to include an offensive intelligence unit, the aim of which would be to penetrate the officers of the new Hungarian A-my."

This report also stated "ZAKO is resentful of KISJARJAKI-FARKIS's political maneuvering and has requested that he (FARKAS) consider himself primarily a soldier. ZAKO maintains that once they are back in Hungary, they can have a political regime of their own choice and there is no point in playing politics now." ZAKO has been instructed by French officials to select his agents from only long-time opponents of Communism. There is no objection to former Arrow-Cross members nor to persons with American contacts, but all activities must be thoroughly controlled by the French I.S.

This report further stated "While the French I.S. seeks to win support of Hungarian emigres by claiming that the Americans failed for a long time to offer such emigres any assistance, the French are well aware that it is impossible to avoid American knowledge of their operations. Karoly NET, a former KOPJAS leader and MADAS, for example were expelled from LALU's organization because they were suspected of working for the American I.S. in Austria. ZAKO has complained on several occasions that he does not have an adequate flow of intelligence reports. Source believes that the French officials single out ZAKO's men for direct contact so that main reports are received directly by the French without passing through the Hungarian staff."

- A search of the K-COM intelli ence files reveals the following report, dated 13 October 1949, on the XOPJAS organization:
- a. General Andreas or Andreas ZAXU, under the direct of the Hungarian General Staff, formed in 19th the organization "KUPJA". Intelligence and sabotage were designated as the primary missions of the unit, with possible activation as a partisan group in the event of Hungary's capitulation. This organization, except to a small degree, was never actually functional prior to the end of the war.

SEGRET

In 1946, ZAKO is reported to have returned to Hungary from his exile in Austria and to have reorganized the KOPJAS as a positive intelligence group. He returned to Austria in 1947 and conducted a recruiting campaign for this organization from among the ranks of former Hungarian army and gendarmerie personnel in Germany and Austria. During 19h7, and 19h8, ZAKO travelled extensively throughout Europe establishing connections with other Hungarian exile groups and seeking support from Western power intelligence organizations for the KOPJAS. ZAKO established connections with ex-General Ferenc FARKAS in late 1947, but severed this connection almost completely due to heavy penetration of the AHLM (Anti-Bolshevist Hungarian Liberation Movement) by pro-Soviet sympathisers. After his break with FARKAS, ZARO is reported to have established connections between the HOPJAS and the Hungarian Mational Committee. This alleged affiliation has never been verified. ZAKO moved from Kellerburg, Austria (British Zone) to Absam, by Solbad Hell, Tyrol, Austria (French Zone) in early 1949. Since his move to the French Zone, numerous reports have been received which indicate that French intelligence has been financing his activities. Should this be true, it implies that the French are receiving similar data to that being provided 1.5. Intelligence by other KOFJAS members. The KOPJAS is presently maintaining a positive intelligence net within Hungary. Data forthcoming from this net is relayed via an intricate courier system to both ZAKO and to various lisison officers appointed by U.S. Intelligence Agencies to the EOPJAS group. ZAKO is in all probability also supplying this data to French intelligence authorities at a clear profit.

c. Another report, dated 2 June 1963, reported that Ferenc FARKAS and ZAXO appeared at the U.S. Consulate General in Munich on 19 March 1968 and offered a proposal for the organisation of an Rastern-European Anti-Soviet Intelligence Service. At the same time, they complained about the manner in which U.S. Intelligence agencies were conducting operations in Hungary.
