

NOTIFICATION OF GEORGE BUSH'S RESIGNATION

George Bush has announced that he would not remain as the Director of Central Intelligence after January 20, 1977. In informing the National Foreign Intelligence Board Principals of this decision, Mr. Bush wishes to thank each member for his support over the past year. All personnel in the NFIB organizations can be proud of their service to our country.

Memo Phone conversation Nov. 23
9:30 PM at Australian Amb's residence
re: leaving CIA

George Bush announced today that he would not remain as DCI after January 20, 1977. In doing so he pledged his continuing full assistance to President Elect Carter during the transition period. Mr. ~~President~~ <sup>Bush informed</sup> has discussed this with Pres. Elect Carter. ~~of~~

~~has discussed~~

EE to E - L6 L7 stay close one thing like to ask you. ③
Newsweek - laser beam
① great job
② work -